Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: Fidelity China Fund (Fund) aims to achieve long-term capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of Chinese and Hong Kong companies and in companies located in other countries that derive a significant portion of their revenues from these countries.

Strategies: When buying and selling equity securities for the Fund, the portfolio manager examines a company's potential for success in light of its current financial condition and industry position, as well as economic and market conditions. The portfolio manager considers factors like growth potential, earnings estimates, cash flow and quality of management during the stock selection process. The Fund tends to focus its investments on large companies but may also invest in companies of any size.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in this Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. Any changes to the Fund over the period have not affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

The Fund is suitable for long-term investors who want to gain exposure to Chinese and Hong Kong companies and companies that derive significant revenue from these markets, and can handle the volatility of returns generally associated with equity investments. The Fund is not an appropriate investment for investors with a short-term investment horizon. To invest in the Fund, investors should be willing to accept a high level of risk. The suitability of the investment has not changed from what has been disclosed in the prospectus.

Results of Operations

Fidelity China Fund, Series B, returned -15.1%, after fees and expenses, for the one-year period ended March 31, 2024. The net returns of the other series of this Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. During the review period, global equities, as represented by the MSCI World Index, returned 25.1% (in Canadian dollar terms).

Market overview:

Global equities, as broadly measured by the MSCI World Index, returned 25.1% in Canadian dollar terms and 25.1% in U.S. dollar terms, for the one-year period ended March 31, 2024.

Global equities advanced during the review period, as economic expansion, and the slowing pace of inflation in some countries provided a mostly favourable backdrop. Following continued tightening of monetary policies in major developed market economies throughout 2022 and for most of 2023, investor sentiment shifted in the fourth quarter of 2023 to a view that interest rates had peaked, and policymakers may cut rates in 2024. Equity market gains were partly fueled by select firms within the information technology and communication services sectors in the U.S., largely due to market exuberance surrounding artificial intelligence. In Europe, several large-capitalisation companies across the luxury goods, pharmaceuticals, and technology sectors supported equity markets. Japanese equities also rose, supported by decline in the value of the yen which bolstered exports, as well as due to corporate governance reforms that have boosted shareholder returns through increased share buybacks and dividends. From a regional perspective, while some global equity markets advanced to hit all-time highs, investors were more cautious towards Chinese equities due to the country's weaker than expected economic growth amid uncertainty surrounding the health of its property and banking sectors.

Factors affecting performance:

The Fund's benchmark, the MSCI China Capped Index, returned -16.8% for the review period. The Fund outperformed its benchmark, primarily due to its exposure to certain stocks in the information technology sector, where out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based semiconductor manufacturing company Micron Technology and South Korea-based semiconductors firm SK Hynix contributed to relative returns. Investments in certain stocks in the industrials sector, such as the Hong Kong-based capital goods firm Sinotruk (Hong Kong) and China-based aircraft leasing company BOC Aviation, also contributed to relative returns. In other sectors, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to China-based e-commerce company Meituan, an out-of-benchmark exposure to Hong Kong-based food and meat processing company WH Group and an investment in Hong Kong-based automotive manufacturer Brilliance China Automotive Holdings all contributed to relative returns.

In contrast, a higher-than-benchmark exposure to the real estate sector detracted from relative returns, particularly an investment in China-based private real estate developer Longfor Group Holdings and an out-of-benchmark exposure to China-based state-owned real estate management and development firm China Overseas Grand Oceans Group. An investment in China-based utilities firm ENN Energy also detracted from relative returns. In other sectors, an investment in China-based multinational automotive retail and services firm Zhongsheng Group detracted from relative returns, as did and out-of-benchmark exposure to China-based automotive company China Yongda Auto Service Holding and China-based retail pharmacy chain Yixingtang Pharmaceutical.

At the end of the review period, the Fund had no exposure to Micron Technology or SK Hynix.

Portfolio changes:

During the review period, the Fund's exposure to the consumer discretionary and consumer staples sectors was increased. In the consumer discretionary sector, the portfolio manager initiated a position in Netherlands-based global consumer internet group Prosus, who owns 26% of Tencent and Tencent comprises 95% of its asset value. In the consumer staples sector, exposure was increased to Hong Kong-based dairy products company China Mengniu Dairy. The portfolio manager believes that these companies show attractive risk reward after recent correction for Chinese equites.

Fidelity China Fund Management Discussion of Fund Performance – continued

In contrast, exposure to the information technology and communication services sectors was decreased, due to surging valuations in the sector led by investors' artificial intelligence euphoria. In the information technology sector, the portfolio manager exited a position in Micron Technology. In the communication services sector, exposure was reduced to China-based media and entertainment firm Baidu.

At the end of the review period, the Fund had its largest absolute exposures to the consumer discretionary sector, followed by the financials sector. The Fund diverged the most from the benchmark sector weightings by having more exposure to the consumer staples sector and less exposure to the information technology sector.

Recent Developments

Portfolio manager Nitin Bajaj continues to focus on bottom-up stock selection with a value-focused approach. The portfolio manager is keen to seek what the portfolio manager believes to be good businesses run by competent and honest management teams, that earn good return on capital and that are available at attractive valuations with a margin of safety. Given that the market has been sold down due to concerns about a slowing economy and weak sentiment in China, many interesting companies currently appear to be trading below their intrinsic value, in the portfolio manager's view. In the meantime, the portfolio manager is aware of near-term macroeconomic uncertainties due to geopolitical tensions and regulatory interventions. Overall, the portfolio manager believes the quality of the portfolio's businesses and their valuations will bring consistent returns over time.

Effective September 19, 2023, Anne Bell of Mississauga, Ontario, became a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC).

Financial Highlights Footnotes

- A This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual and/or unaudited interim financial statements. The net assets attributable to securityholders per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to financial statements.
- B Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per security.
- C Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both, and excludes any applicable distributions of management fee reduction to securityholders. Distributions are presented based on management's best estimate of the tax character.
- This information is provided as at period end of the year shown.
- Prior period amounts may have been adjusted.
- f Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated expenses incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.
- Effective November 1, 2014, the manager of the Fund has waived a portion of its administration fee and as of the date of the MRFP has continued to provide the Fund with such waivers. The manager may terminate the waiver at any time, at its sole discretion. It is not known when such waivers will be terminated.
- He trading expense ratio represents total commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and dividends and interest expense on securities sold short expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated trading costs incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.
- The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of portfolio securities owned by the Fund, excluding short-term securities. The portfolio turnover rate includes any proceeds from a short sale in the value of sales of securities and the cost of covering a short sale in the value of purchases of securities. For periods greater than six months, but less than a full fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate is annualized. The portfolio turnover rate excludes any adjustment for in-kind transactions.

Management and Advisory Fees

Fidelity serves as manager and investment advisor of the Fund. The Fund pays Fidelity a monthly management and advisory fee for its services, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Fidelity uses these management fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund securities, as well as for the general investment management expenses. Dealer compensation represents cash commissions paid by Fidelity to registered dealers during the period and includes upfront deferred sales charge and trailing commissions. This amount may, in certain circumstances, exceed 100% of the fees earned by Fidelity during the period. For new Funds or Series the amounts presented may not be indicative of longer term operating periods.

Fidelity's mutual funds are sold by registered Investment Professionals. Each Fund has a simplified prospectus, which contains important information on the Fund, including its investment objective, purchase options, and applicable charges. Please obtain a copy of the prospectus, read it carefully, and consult your Investment Professional before investing. As with any investment, there are risks to investing in mutual funds. There is no assurance that any Fund will achieve its investment objective, and its net asset value, yield, and investment return will fluctuate from time to time with market conditions. Investors may experience a gain or loss when they sell their securities in any Fidelity Fund. Fidelity Global Funds may be more volatile than other Fidelity Funds as they concentrate investments in one sector and in fewer issuers; no single Fund is intended to be a complete diversified investment program. Past performance is no assurance or indicator of future returns. There is no assurance that either Fidelity Canadian Money Market Fund, Fidelity Canadian Money Market Investment Trust, Fidelity U.S. Money Market Fund or Fidelity U.S. Money Market Investment Trust will be able to maintain its net asset value at a constant amount. The breakdown of Fund investments is presented to illustrate the way in which a Fund may invest, and may not be representative of a Fund's current or future investments. A Fund's investments may change at any time.
