Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

Fidelity Canadian Asset Allocation Fund (Fund), Series B, returned 8.1%, after fees and expenses, for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024. The net returns of the other series of the Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. During the review period, Canadian equities, as represented by the S&P/TSX Composite Index, returned 14.7% (in Canadian dollar terms) and Canadian fixed income, as represented by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, returned 4.6% (in Canadian dollar terms).

Market overview:

Canadian equities, as measured by the S&P/TSX Composite Index, returned 14.7% for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024.

Canadian equities rose over the review period, driven by strong performance in key sectors. Information technology and financials were the best-performing sectors, benefiting from advancements in artificial intelligence and a more positive outlook on banking stocks. All sectors, except for communication services, improved over the period. The communication services sector, which is heavily focused on telecommunications, declined due to specific stock-related challenges. Cyclical sectors like consumer discretionary and energy also posted growth despite bouts of volatility, while defensive sectors such as healthcare, utilities, and consumer staples also experienced gains as investors looked for stability amid ongoing market fluctuations. However, market volatility remained elevated, fuelled by risks including uncertainty around U.S. monetary policy, concerns over U.S. economic growth, and the threat of new U.S. tariffs targeting key trading partners. These tariff threats weighed on investor sentiment, particularly in export-oriented industries, amplifying fears of broader economic repercussions. The Canadian economy grew at a slower-than-expected pace, with an annualized growth rate of 1.0% in the third quarter of 2024, compared to higher growth of 2.2% in the second quarter of 2024. Inflation, as measured by the consumer price index, eased from 2.7% in June 2024 to 1.9% in November 2024, indicating a slowdown in price increases. Additionally, the labour market showed signs of softening, as the unemployment rate rose to 6.7% in December 2024, up from 6.4% in June 2024. These trends bolstered the case for continued monetary easing by the Bank of Canada (BoC). Against this backdrop, the BoC announced several interest rate cuts, reducing the benchmark rate from 4.75% in June 2024 to 3.25% by December 2024.

Canadian investment-grade bonds, as broadly represented by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, returned 4.6% for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024.

Canadian investment-grade bonds rose over the period under review, as the Bank of Canada (the BoC) announced several interest rate cuts, inflation declined rapidly, and the Canadian economy grew at a slower pace than expected. In November 2024, Canada's Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation was 1.9%, below the BoC's 2.0% target, mainly due to lower energy prices and weakened inflationary pressures. While energy exports are rising, growth in business investment and government spending has slowed, and excess supply in the economy persists. Employment has softened, with wage growth outpacing productivity gains. Economic growth is projected to gradually strengthen through 2025-2026, supported by lower interest rates, steady consumer spending, and robust export demand. Although at the end of the third quarter, the economy expanded by an annualized rate of 1.0%.

Factors affecting performance:

The Fund's benchmark returned 11.6% for the period under review. The blended benchmark is composed of 70.0% S&P/TSX Capped Composite Index and 30.0% FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark during the review period. Among asset classes, the Fund's investments in Canadian equities and an out-of-benchmark exposure to long-term U.S. Treasuries detracted from relative returns. Conversely, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canadian investment-grade bonds and out-of-benchmark exposure to emerging market equities contributed to relative returns.

Among the Fund's holdings in Canadian equities, investments in the information technology sector and a lower-than-benchmark exposure to the financials sector detracted from relative returns. In the information technology sector, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canada-based e-commerce platform Shopify and an out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based multinational technology company Microsoft detracted from relative returns. In the financials sector, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canada-based investment management firm Brookfield Corporation and to Canada-based financial services company Bank of Nova Scotia detracted from relative returns. In other sectors, an out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based discount retailer Dollar General and to U.S.-based discount store chain Dollar Tree detracted from relative returns, as did a lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canada-based multinational pipeline and energy company Enbridge.

In contrast, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to, and investments in, the communication services sector contributed to relative returns, particularly lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canada-based telecommunications companies BCE and TELUS. Investments in the industrials sector also contributed to relative returns, particularly a lower-than-benchmark exposure to Canada-based transport company Canada National Railway Company and an investment in Canada-based engineering company AtkinsRéalis. In other sectors, an investment in Canada-based investment management firm Brookfield Asset Management and an out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based drive-through coffee shop company Dutch Bros contributed to relative returns.

Portfolio changes:

During the review period, the portfolio managers increased exposure to Canadian investment-grade bonds and Canadian equities, owing to the relatively attractive risk/reward outlook for those asset classes, in their view. In contrast, the portfolio managers decreased the Fund's exposure to long-term U.S. Treasury bonds and to commodities-related equities, in favour of what they believed to be better risk/reward opportunities elsewhere.

Among Canadian equities, the equity portfolio managers increased the Fund's exposure to the financials and consumer discretionary sectors. In the financials sector, exposure was increased to Canada-based banking and financial services company Toronto-Dominion Bank. In the consumer discretionary sector, a position was initiated in Dutch Bros. The portfolio managers believe that these companies have an attractive risk/reward outlook.

In contrast, exposure to the materials and energy sectors was reduced. In the materials sector, exposure was reduced to Canada-based diversified metals and mining firm Teck Resources. In the energy sector, the portfolio managers reduced exposure to Canada-based oil and natural gas firm Canadian Natural Resources. The portfolio managers believed there were opportunities elsewhere with more attractive risk/reward potential.

Canadian equities positioning is generally determined by fundamental ideas, rather than top-down sector calls, in the portfolio managers' view. At the end of the review period, the Fund had its largest absolute exposure to the financials sector, followed by the industrials sector. The Fund diverged most from its benchmark's sector weightings by having more exposure to the industrials sector and less exposure to the energy sector.

Derivatives disclosure:

During the period, the Fund engaged in futures contracts, in a manner consistent with its investment objective and strategies, to manage the Fund's cash balance while the portfolio management team sought out other investment opportunities.

During the period, the Fund engaged in forward foreign currency contracts, in a manner consistent with its investment objectives and strategies, to hedge against the effect of currency fluctuations on the investment returns of the Fund. The use of forward contracts in this manner does not completely eliminate the impact of currency fluctuations on returns.

Recent Developments

Portfolio managers David Wolf and David Tulk observe that the economy in developed markets remains resilient, despite signals that have led central banks to begin cutting policy interest rates. However, Canada has shown anemic growth. In the managers' view, Canada's lagging growth may be due to a divergence appearing between U.S. and Canadian consumers, with the U.S. consumer base being seen as stronger and more adaptable. With headline inflation continuing to moderate, the managers believe that central banks may not need to further tighten monetary policy, and that the U.S. Federal Reserve's policy rate normalization can continue. The portfolio managers believe this may provide slightly easier financial conditions heading into 2025. The managers believe that the last mile of deflation toward the 2% target could remain a challenge, however, particularly as potential trade barriers and possible fiscal expansion following the U.S. election could keep inflation elevated, which could require central banks to make a sudden shift in policy decisions. The portfolio managers are hopeful that future earnings estimates point to continued economic momentum and observe that corporate level fundamentals appear to remain strong. The managers believe this may be attributed to advancements in artificial intelligence, coupled with the ongoing prevalence of remote and hybrid work arrangements, which both likely contribute to productivity gains. The managers continue to focus on constructing portfolios that they believe are well diversified across asset classes, styles and regions as they believe this is the right way to both protect and grow capital over the long run.

Financial Highlights Footnotes

- ^A This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual and/or unaudited interim financial statements. The net assets attributable to securityholders per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to financial statements.
- ^B Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per security.
- ^C Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both, and excludes any applicable distributions of management fee reduction to securityholders. Distributions are presented based on management's best estimate of the tax character.
- ^D This information is provided as at period end of the year shown.
- ^E Prior period amounts may have been adjusted.
- ^F Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated expenses incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable, (2024: .01%, 2024: .01%, 2023: .01%, 2022: .01%, 2021: .01%, 2020: .01%).
- ^G Effective November 1, 2014, the manager of the Fund has waived a portion of its administration fee and as of the date of the MRFP has continued to provide the Fund with such waivers. The manager may terminate the waiver at any time, at its sole discretion. It is not known when such waivers will be terminated.
- ^H The trading expense ratio represents total commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and dividends and interest expense on securities sold short expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated trading costs incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.
- ^I The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of portfolio securities owned by the Fund, excluding short-term securities. The portfolio turnover rate includes any proceeds from a short sale in the value of sales of securities and the cost of covering a short sale in the value of purchases of securities. For periods greater than six months, but less than a full fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate is annualized. The portfolio turnover rate excludes any adjustment for in-kind transactions.
- ^J Effective October 1, 2015, the manager of the Fund has waived a portion of its administration fee and as of the date of the MRFP has continued to provide the Fund with such waivers. The manager may terminate the waiver at any time, at its sole discretion. It is not known when such waivers will be terminated.

Management and Advisory Fees

Fidelity serves as manager and investment advisor of the Fund. The Fund pays Fidelity a monthly management and advisory fee for its services, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Fidelity uses these management fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund securities, as well as for the general investment management expenses. Dealer compensation represents cash commissions paid by Fidelity to registered dealers during the period and includes upfront deferred sales charge and trailing commissions. This amount may, in certain circumstances, exceed 100% of the fees earned by Fidelity during the period. For new Funds or Series the amounts presented may not be indicative of longer term operating periods.

Fidelity's mutual funds are sold by registered Investment Professionals. Each Fund has a simplified prospectus, which contains important information on the Fund, including its investment objective, purchase options, and applicable charges. Please obtain a copy of the prospectus, read it carefully, and consult your Investment Professional before investing. As with any investment, there are risks to investing in mutual funds. There is no assurance that any Fund will achieve its investment objective, and its net asset value, yield, and investment return will fluctuate from time to time with market conditions. Investors may experience a gain or loss when they sell their securities in any Fidelity Fund. Fidelity Global Funds may be more volatile than other Fidelity Funds as they concentrate investments in one sector and in fewer issuers; no single Fund is intended to be a complete diversified investment program. Past performance is no assurance or indicator of future returns. There is no assurance that either Fidelity Canadian Money Market Fund, Fidelity Canadian Money Market Investment Trust, Fidelity U.S. Money Market Fund or Fidelity U.S. Money Market Investment Trust will be able to maintain its net asset value at a constant amount. The breakdown of Fund investments is presented to illustrate the way in which a Fund may invest, and may not be representative of a Fund's current or future investments. A Fund's investments may change at any time.
