In addition, any statement that may be made concerning future performance, strategies or prospects, and possible future Fund action, is also a forward-looking statement. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and projections about future events and are inherently subject to, among other things, risks, uncertainties and assumptions about the Fund and economic factors. Accordingly, assumptions concerning future economic and other factors may prove to be incorrect at a future date.

You are encouraged to consider these and other factors carefully before making any investment decisions and you are urged to avoid placing undue reliance on forward-looking statements. ## Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

Fidelity Canadian Short Term Corporate Bond ETF Fund, Series B, returned 5.1%, after fees and expenses, for the six-month period ended September 30, 2024. The net returns of the other series of the Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. During the review period, Canadian bonds, as represented by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, returned 5.6% (in Canadian dollar terms).

Market overview:

Canadian investment-grade bonds, as broadly represented by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, returned 5.6% for six-month period ended September 30, 2024.

Canadian investment-grade bonds rose over the period under review, against a backdrop of easing inflationary pressure, and falling interest rates. Headline inflation fell to 2.0% in August, down from 2.7% in April, while wage pressures showed some signs of moderating but remain elevated. As inflationary pressure began to ease, the Bank of Canada (the BoC) cut its interest rate for the first time since 2020, reducing it by 25 basis points to 4.75% in June 2024. As a result, Canadian government bond yields trended lower during the review period, after peaking in April. The subsequent cooling labour market and progress in declining inflation provided room for two additional 25 basis point interest rate cuts in July and September, lowering the rate to 4.25%.

Factors affecting performance:

During the review period, the Fund's benchmark, the FTSE Canada Short Term Corporate Bond 5% Capped Index, returned 5.3% during the review period. The Fund underperformed its benchmark over the review period. The Underlying Fund's yield curve positioning detracted from relative returns. In contrast, the Underlying Fund's holdings in the real estate sector and an out-of-benchmark exposure to commercial mortgage-backed securities contributed to relative returns.

Portfolio changes:

At the sector level, compared to the benchmark, the Underlying Fund had its highest relative weighting in the real estate sector and its lowest relative exposures to the financials and infrastructure sectors. The Underlying Fund also continues to hold investments in commercial mortgage-backed securities that are not represented in the benchmark.

Recent Developments

Portfolio managers Sri Tella and Lee Ormiston believe that risk assets continue to price in a soft or no-landing scenario, and the pricing of rate cuts has been more aggressive than those signaled by the Federal Reserve. Headline inflation is now at the Bank of Canada's 2% mid-point target, mostly driven by the decline in energy price, while three-month and six-month annualized core inflation (inflation momentum) is running closer to 2.5%. Current rate levels appear to be near fair value, roughly in line with the portfolio managers' longer term views on the neutral rate. While markets are pricing in an aggressive path of rate cuts, the portfolio managers believe that overall levels of rates, economic uncertainty, and lingering geopolitical risks all continue to warrant an allocation to fixed income. However, the uncertain outlook and overall corporate valuations warrant being selective on credit exposure.

The standing instructions also require that investment decisions in respect of these transactions (a) are free from any influence by an entity related to Fidelity and without taking into account any consideration relevant to an entity related to Fidelity; (b) represent the business judgment of Fidelity uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; (c) comply with the applicable policies and procedures of Fidelity; and (d) achieve a fair and reasonable result for the Fund.

Financial Highlights Footnotes

<sup>B</sup> This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual and/or unaudited interim financial statements. The net assets attributable to securityholders per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to financial statements.

<sup>C</sup> Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per security.

<sup>D</sup> Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both, and excludes any applicable distributions of management fee reduction to securityholders. Distributions are presented based on management's best estimate of the tax character.

<sup>G</sup> Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated expenses incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable, (2024: .45%, 2024: .45%, 2023: .44%, 2022: .44%, 2021: .43%, 2020: .44%).

<sup>H</sup> Effective September 27, 2019, the manager of the Fund has waived a portion of its administration fee and as of the date of the MRFP has continued to provide the Fund with such waivers. The manager may terminate the waiver at any time, at its sole discretion. It is not known when such waivers will be terminated.

<sup>I</sup> The trading expense ratio represents total commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and dividends and interest expense on securities sold short expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated trading costs incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.

<sup>J</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of portfolio securities owned by the Fund, excluding short-term securities. The portfolio turnover rate includes any proceeds from a short sale in the value of sales of securities and the cost of covering a short sale in the value of purchases of securities. For periods greater than six months, but less than a full fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate is annualized. The portfolio turnover rate excludes any adjustment for in-kind transactions.

Management and Advisory Fees

Fidelity serves as manager and investment advisor of the Fund. The Fund pays Fidelity a monthly management and advisory fee for its services, based on the net asset value of each Series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Fidelity uses these management fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund securities, as well as for the general investment management expenses. Dealer compensation represents cash commissions paid by Fidelity to registered dealers during the period and includes upfront deferred sales charge and trailing commissions. This amount may, in certain circumstances, exceed 100% of the fees earned by Fidelity during the period. For new Funds or Series the amounts presented may not be indicative of longer term operating periods.

	Management Fees (%)	Dealer Compensation (%)	Investment management, administration and other (%)
Series B	0.900	55.56	44.44
Series F	0.400	-	100.00
